ENLARGEMENT OF PREMISES.

JOHNSON & GREEN
HAVE the satisfaction of announcing that the Enlargement of their Premises, which has recently been effected, gives them about double the space they previously occupied. They now have one of the most convenient and well-arranged PRINTING OFFICES in the country, and are prepared to execute work of any description and to any extent at the lowest charges, and with the utmost expedition.

THEY HAVE ALSO ERECTED A
FOUR VERY SUPERIOR PRINTING MACHINES
OF THE MOST APPROVED CONSTRUCTION, Including a magnificent little CARD MACHINE, by means of which one person can produce upwards of 1000 impressions in an hour.

THEY HAVE ALSO ERECTED A HUGON'S GAS ENGINE
which will greatly facilitate the execution of large orders with rapidity and economy.

JOHNSON & GREEN
Have secured in their Enlarged Premises increased accommodation for the BOOKBINDING DEPARTMENT.
Their business in this branch is already very extensive, but it might have been considerably increased if their space had not been so limited.
THEY WILL ALSO GIVE MORE ATTENTION TO
Machine Ruling and Account Book Making,
For which their appliances are complete, thus obviating the delay and expense of having such work performed in Liverpool, Manchester, or

EDUCATIONAL WORKS OF DR. CORNWELL, F.R.G.S.

"DR. CORNWELL ranks among our very best editors of educational treatises. We have for many years used his 'English School Grammar,' his 'Young Composer,' and his 'School Geography,' as text books; and can testify, from daily experience, that in practical utility to private students, and in perfect adaptation to the purposes of public instruction, they cannot be surpassed. The four latest contributions to the editor's Educational Series fully maintain his high reputation. The 'Geography for Beginners' furnishes an admirable initiation into the author's more elaborate manual of 'School Geography,' the 'Map Book for Beginners' is equal, in point of execution, to any atlas of its size which we have seen; while the 'Book of Blank Maps,' and the 'Book of Map Projections,' at once suggest and supply the true and only data for the rational and effective teaching of Geography. On the whole we can, with the utmost confidence, recommend these and the other Works of Dr. Cornwell to all who are engaged in the education of youth."—Macphail's Literary Review.

THE OFFICIAL DIRECTORY TO SOUTHPORT & BIRKDALE.

SOUTHPORT, one of the most popular watering-places in the kingdom, forms part of the parish of North Meols, in the hundred of West Derby, and is situated on the west coast of Lancashire, near the mouth of the Ribble, 18 miles N. by W. of Liverpool, 37½ W. of Manchester, 19 S. by W. of Preston, and 220 N. by W. of London. Its geographical position is 53° 38' 40" north latitude, and 2° 59' 45" west longitude, and its shores are washed by the broad waters of the Irish sea. Its delightful sea-girt position, and the extreme salubrity of its climate, have produced an almost unparalleled change, in transforming it in a few years from a small and almost unknown village of fishermen's huts into an extensive and prosperous town, chiefly composed of villa residences of elegant structure, so that it has been styled, with great appropriateness, "The Montpellier of the North."

The town is built upon land part of which belongs to the Rev. CHARLES HESKETH, M.A., rector of the parish, the remaining portion being under the management of THOMAS PART, Esq., of Wigan, and W. H. TALBOT, Esq., of Southport (Trustees for the late CHARLES SCARISBRICK, Esq.,) under whose direction and that of their agent, Mr. RICHARD WRIGHT, the streets have been laid out, and such regulations adopted as have contributed in no small degree to the elegant appearance of the town, and have prevented the crowding together of buildings, which is unfortunately so common in rapidly increasing districts.

Southport, which for several years was under the control of a Board of Commissioners, has recently been constituted a Municipal Borough, the governing body consisting of a Mayor, eight Aldermen, and 24 Councillors, the honourable distinction of being appointed first Mayor having been conferred upon PETER WOOD, Esq., M.D., J.P., who has been twice elected to that distinguished office. The area under the government of the local authority is above 1500 acres, the western boundary being the shore, while on the other sides it is bounded by the townships of North Meols, Scarisbrick, Halsall, and Birkdale. Some notion of the vast increase of the town during late years may be gathered from a fact contained in the first publication of this kind, issued in the year 1848, and entitled "A Descriptive History of the popular Watering-place of Southport, in the Parish of North Meols, on the Western Coast of Lancashire. By FRANK ROBINSON." In this publication there is an appendix, containing the names of "Resident Officials, General Directory, &c.," the introductory note to which states that the list therein given "contains the names of all the inhabitants resident within the limits of the Southport Improvement Act." This list contains the names of 623 persons. This was in 1848: thirteen years later, in 1861, the census returns give 10,097 as the population, while at the present time the number of persons living in the borough cannot be reckoned at less than 16,000 or 17,000. Such an increase is, perhaps, unparalleled.

The town is distinguished by spacious and well arranged streets, which, owing to the sandy soil, are always dry; a magnificent Promenade, extending three-quarters of a mile along the shore, on one side of which are erected handsome buildings, chiefly used for the accommodation of visitors; a noble Pier, which runs out seawards from the centre of the Promenade, about a mile in length, with tramway and carriages for passenger traffic, worked by steam; and an extensive bathing beach where, during the season, the proprietors of the "machines" are kept constantly employed.

The PUBLIC BUILDINGS, though not very numerous, are characterised by much taste, and add considerably to the adornment of the place. The TOWN HALL, erected in 1853 at a cost of £4500, is in the Grecian style, with a wide flight of steps and portico; it contains on the upper floor a large assembly room,—for public meetings, concerts, and entertainments, capable of accommodating 500 persons—the council chamber, ante-room, and offices; on the central floor are the mayor's parlour, rooms for the borough officials, town clerk, accountant, collectors, &c., with a large committee room; and on the other side of the main entrance are the court of petty sessions and magistrates' room, while on the basement are the police inspector's office, cells, &c. The three parishes—Christ Church, Trinity, and St. Paul's—into which the town is divided, have large and commodious churches.—CHRIST CHURCH, situated in the centre of Lord-street, was erected in 1820, and has since been considerably enlarged. It is in the early English style, and accommodates 1400 persons, has a magnificent tower and spire, 180 feet high, built at the sole expense of William Atkinson, Esq., J.P., of Ashton Hayes, Cheshire, and Southport; it contains a peal of six bells, purchased by public subscription, and a handsome clock illuminated at night: the population of the parish is 5490.—TRINITY CHURCH, at the junction of Hoghton-street and Manchester-road, was erected in 1837, and has since been greatly enlarged, being now capable of holding upwards of 1200 worshippers. It is built of brick, stuccoed, with a square tower: the population of the parish is 4025.—ST. PAUL'S CHURCH in St. Paul's-street, to the west of Duke-street, was erected in 1864 at a cost of £4500, is a fine specimen of the decorated English style, with a tower and spire 132 feet high, and is remarkable for having all its windows of stained glass: the population of the parish is 3500.—The two principal Wesleyan Methodist chapels are handsome buildings, both recently erected: MORNINGTON-ROAD CHAPEL, built in 1860, in the early decorated Gothic style, with lofty spire, will accommodate upwards of 1200 persons, and is a splendid specimen of architecture, the interior being richly decorated and most commodious: TRINITY CHAPEL, in Duke-street, erected in 1864 at the sole expense of John Fernley, Esq., of Birkdale, is in the early English style and cruciform, has gables surmounted with crosses and a lofty tower with brooch spire, and is pure in all its details—the interior presenting the appearance of a small cathedral, a similarity heightened by the mellowed light introduced into the building by its richly stained-glass windows.—The Congregational chapels are fine specimens of architecture, and in good positions: CHAPEL-STREET CHAPEL, at the junction of that street with Eastbank-street and near the Railway Station, erected in 1867, is in the mixed Classic style of architecture, with a noble frontage of Corinthian columns and portico; will accommodate 900 persons, and is very elegant in its interior decorations. WEST-END CHAPEL, at the junction of Lord-street with Duke-street, is in the Tudor-Gothic style, with fine spire, was erected in 1862, and will accommodate 700 persons. The UNITARIAN CHAPEL, in Portland-street, is the most recently erected ecclesiastical structure, and is a neat Gothic building.—Of the other public buildings the Manchester and Salford Bank, in Lord-street, is by far the most handsome; but, latterly, several blocks have been erected, with high claims as specimens of architecture; among these may be mentioned Palatine-buildings, in Nevill-street, and Rotunda-buildings, in Lord-street.

In addition to the structures already mentioned, Southport contains a good Market Hall and Fish Market, in Chapel-street, the Victoria Toy Market, at the back of the Town Hall, seven other Dissenting Chapels, a Roman Catholic Chapel, four public Day Schools, a Convalescent Hospital and Sea-Bathing Infirmary, a Hydropathic Hospital, a Sanatorium for Children, a Temperance Hall, News Rooms, seventeen hotels, some of them very large and commodious, Sea-water Baths, Turkish Baths, a noble Railway Station, with Telegraph Office, a Marine Fund and Lifeboat Institution, together with a large number of Benevolent Societies and Literary Institutions, Clubs, &c., a list of which will be found elsewhere in this "Directory." Two newspapers are published in the town, viz., "The Southport Visiter," established in 1844, and published twice a week, on Tuesdays and Fridays, price one penny; and "The Southport Independent," commenced in 1861 and published on Wednesdays, price one penny.

HESKETH PARK—so called after the name of the Rector of the Parish, the generous donor of the land—was opened on the 1st of May last amid universal rejoicings. It is situated at the north-east of the town, and comprises thirty acres, tastefully laid out with ornamental mounds, walks, shrubberies, lake, &c., the whole enclosed with a low stone wall and palisades, and having entrance lodges at the ends of Albert-road and Queen's-road. Round the Park is a drive of ample width, and it is very probable that in a few years this will become a very beautiful suburb of the town.—The CEMETERY, at the south-eastern extremity of Duke-street, opened in December, 1865, is 240 yards in length by 186 in width, and is surrounded by a stone wall, 5 feet in height. It is tastefully laid out, and contains Chapels of handsome design, for members of the Church of England and for Dissenters, connected by a noble looking tower, 50 feet in height. An elegant little Chapel is also placed in the portion of ground allotted to Roman Catholics, and at the entrance are well built Lodges for the officials.

The railway communication is on an extensive scale, trains leaving frequently for Liverpool, Wigan, Bolton, Manchester, Preston, Yorkshire, &c. Recently, steam-boat traffic has been added to the travelling facilities of the place, and during the season trips are constantly made to Blackpool, Lytham, and places on the Welsh coast, &c.

BIRKDALE PARK, lying to the south-west of Southport, and in reality a suburb of that place, is a separate township and parish under the government of a Local Board, and is laid out with considerable taste, most of the dwellings being villa residences, standing in the midst of large gardens, while the asphalted roads, generally of great width, afford a pleasant drive, much used in the season. The only ecclesiastical edifices are St. JAMES'S CHURCH, Lulworth-road, which, though built only about 10 years ago, is a somewhat antiquated-looking structure of red sandstone, capable of accommodating 600 persons; and St. JOSEPH'S (Roman Catholic) CHAPEL, in York-road, at its junction with Albert-road, having interior decorations of an elegant character. There are three hotels, viz., the PALACE HOTEL, Weld-road, near the shore, a very large and magnificent edifice, recently built at a cost of £60,000, with fine grounds, including bowling green, croquet lawns, archery grounds, &c.; the PARK HOTEL, near the station, with extensive strawberry gardens and bowling green; and the BLUNDELL ARMS, in Upper Aughton-road, which has also a bowling green. The POST-OFFICE is in Gloucester-road; Pillar Posts are placed in Lulworth-road and at the Railway Station; and there is a good MUSEUM OF CURIOSITIES belonging to Mr. DAVIES, nurseryman, in Aughton-road. The population of Birkdale Park is about 2,400.

Any further information respecting the district may be obtained from "A Guide to Southport and Birkdale," issued quarterly by the publishers of this Directory, price 2d.; while those who desire to study the history of Southport and its character as a health-resort can gratify their inclination by procuring "A Handbook for Southport, Medical and General, with copious notices of the Natural History of the District," by the late Dr. McNicoll; and "Southport as a Residence in Health and Disease," by Dr. Barron. Many thousands of invalids have already experienced the health-giving properties of the climate of Southport, and it is not improbable that in the future the number of those who will derive advantage from its salubrious atmosphere will be immensely increased.

[ADVERTISEMENT.]

The preparation of this Official Directory of Southport and Birkdale has been a work of considerable labour and difficulty, arising partly from the numerous changes constantly taking place in the district, and partly from other circumstances inevitably connected with the first issue of so complete and comprehensive a Directory as this professes to be, but which need not be here detailed. We shall be very grateful to receive the correction of any errors and the supply of any omissions which may have accidentally occurred.

A Large Plan of the District, prepared at great cost, is affixed to the Volume, and we have to acknowledge the valuable aid in its preparation most willingly given by Mr. Crabtree, the Borough Surveyor of Southport, and Mr. C. W. Johnson, Clerk to the Birkdale Local Board.

A Plan of the Birkdale Park Estate, as it is laid out by the Lord of the Manor, will also be found in the Volume.

HENRY HAYES & Co., WINE AND SPIRIT MERCHANTS,

CORONATION WALK AND NEVILL-STREET, SOUTHPORT;

42, CHURCH-STREET, LIVERPOOL.

HENRY HAYES & CO., Importers and Wholesale Dealers in Foreign Wines and Foreign and British Spirits and Bottlers of Ales and Stout, respectfully announce that they will be obliged by an examination of the Stock held by them in Bond and Duty Paid, in Cask and Bottle, believing that it will bear comparison with any Stock in the Kingdom, the whole being offered at the very lowest remunerating profit consistent with quality being in each Department the first consideration.

By their direct Importation of the Foreign portion of this Stock, and its selection from the most respectable shippers, HENRY HAYES & CO. are enabled to give a positive guarantee as to its genuine character, and a strict adherence to the principle of neither importing nor dealing in any but the best class of goods, and the disposal of such at fixed prices, induce a reliance on maintaining a successful competition, both in supplying the trade and private families.

In the Cellar Department, in addition to the Wines of every day consumption, a variety of French and Rhenish Wines have been introduced, at prices calculated to encourage an extension in their sale, owing to the Reduction of Duty under the New Tariff.

In Foreign Spirits the best qualities in Wood will be found, and fine Pale Champagne Brandy and Schiedam Hollands, in Cases, are also offered.

In order to fully carry out the requirements of their friends, HENRY HAYES & CO. have entered into arrangements with the leading Brewers in London, Dublin, Burton, and Edinbro' which will enable them not only to supply Bottled Ales and Stout, in superior condition, but to offer such in Cask, at the same prices as similar qualities can be obtained direct from the Brewers.

HENRY HAYES & Co.,
WINE AND SPIRIT MERCHANTS,
CORONATION WALK AND NEVILL-STREET, SOUTHPORT;
42, CHURCH-STREET, LIVERPOOL.

HENRY HAYES & CO., Importers and Wholesale Dealers in Foreign Wines and Foreign and British Spirits and Bottlers of Ales and Stout, respectfully announce that they will be obliged by an examination of the Stock held by them in Bond and Duty Paid, in Cask and Bottle, believing that it will bear comparison with any Stock in the Kingdom, the whole being offered at the very lowest remunerating profit consistent with quality being in each Department the first consideration.
By their direct Importation of the Foreign portion of this Stock, and its selection from the most respectable shippers, HENRY HAYES & CO. are enabled to give a positive guarantee as to its genuine character, and a strict adherence to the principle of neither importing nor dealing in any but the best class of goods, and the disposal of such at fixed prices, induce a reliance on maintaining a successful competition, both in supplying the trade and private families.
In the Cellar Department, in addition to the Wines of every day consumption, a variety of French and Rhenish Wines have been introduced, at prices calculated to encourage an extension in their sale, owing to the Reduction of Duty under the New Tariff.
In Foreign Spirits the best qualities in Wood will be found, and fine Pale Champagne Brandy and Schiedam Hollands, in Cases, are also offered.
In order to fully carry out the requirements of their friends, HENRY HAYES & CO. have entered into arrangements with the leading Brewers in London, Dublin, Burton, and Edinburgh which will enable them not only to supply Bottled Ales and Stout, in superior condition, but to offer such in Cask, at the same prices as similar qualities can be obtained direct from the Brewers.

SOUTHPORT COLLEGE,

LANCASHIRE.

PRINCIPAL:

REV. DR. MORGAN.

This College was built expressly for an Educational Establishment. The Building is spacious, the Class-rooms large, and the Dormitories lofty and airy. No expense has been spared to provide accommodation for a select and superior school. The Playgrounds are extensive, and provided with a Gymnasium. Sixty Boarders are received.

The Course of Education, which is liberal and comprehensive, is adapted to Young Gentlemen from Eight to Eighteen Years of Age, who are carefully trained for Professional and Mercantile Pursuits, and special attention is given to those branches which promote their success in after life.

As there is an ample staff of Masters the Classes are small, so that while emulation is secured, each Pupil receives that individual teaching which is so essential to sound and accurate scholarship.

Recently Published, Price Sixpence,

THE TEETH:

ARTIFICIAL TEETH, their uses and abuses, with OBSERVATIONS on the connection between Dental and General Disease, BY CHARLES BARROW, M.C.D.E., Dentist, Southport. Published by Galt and Co., Manchester. Sold by Messrs. Johnson, Jordan, and Walker, Southport.

The injuries, not pecuniary merely, arising from unqualified parties assuming Dentistry without suitable education, detailed therein, call for the serious consideration of the public. The special attention of invalids suffering from dyspepsia, consumption, &c., is requested to this small work.

"This is a valuable little treatise on a subject which concerns every one, and is evidently the result of a long experience. The author speculates on nothing. His assertions and his conclusions are arrived at from close observation, guided by an intimate acquaintance with general medicine and surgery. His small volume is well worthy the careful perusal of all, especially those who are troubled with decayed or defective teeth. He very clearly points out the injurious effects resulting from the bad condition of the teeth, and shows the connection, not merely between good teeth and a pleasing appearance, but also between good teeth and health."—Southport Visitor.

Mr. C. BARROW may be personally consulted, every day but Friday, at his residence,
6, VICTORIA STREET, SOUTHPORT.

"I am determined never to sit again for my portrait."

"Why?"

"The deep lines in my face are always caricatured. I have lost all faith in Photographic Portraits, having sat for so many. I was a perfect fright in every one of them."

"Oh! if that is all, there is an easy remedy. Go to LLOYD & JEFFERSON'S, in Lord-street. No matter how deep the furrows time has ploughed, or how unsightly the scars which accident may have produced, they can soften them down until—if you wish—they become invisible."

"Indeed! Shakspeare was right, then, when he said—'There are more things in heaven and earth than are dreamt of in your philosophy.' I'll go at once."

A DIFFICULTY SURMOUNTED.

"I am determined never to sit again for my portrait."

"Why?"

"The deep lines in my face are always caricatured. I have lost all faith in Photographic Portraits, having sat for so many. I was a perfect fright in every one of them."

"Oh! if that is all, there is an easy remedy. Go to LLOYD & JEFFERSON'S, in Lord-street. No matter how deep the furrows time has ploughed, or how unsightly the scars which accident may have produced, they can soften them down until—if you wish—they become invisible."

"Indeed! Shakspeare was right, then, when he said—'There are more things in heaven and earth than are dreamt of in your philosophy.' I'll go at once."
